

Great Lakes Valley Conference Coordinator of Officials, Gerry Pollard is conducting an identification and tryout camp in Louisville, KY in conjunction with the Kentucky HoopFest.

This camp is designed to identify and train officials to work in the highly competitive Great Lakes Valley Conference. Gerry and his staff will work hard at giving each official an opportunity to improve his skill level while at camp. Classroom lectures and Q&A sessions will also be conducted to provide the opportunity to improve each facet of their game. These sessions will also help each official understand what it takes to work at a higher level of college basketball.

The staff will be made up of highly successful Division I and II NCAA referees and coordinators.

Personally, Gerry is a product of the camp system as are most of the clinicians. Hard work and commitment has paid off. Gerry just completed his 25th year of active officiating and it was capped off by his 3rd Sweet 16 assignment in the NCAA tournament in the last four years.

Along with his new appointment to the Great Lakes Valley staff, Gerry coordinates officials in the NAIA American Midwest Conference and Missouri Region 16 JUCO Conference.

Officials need to continue to improve each year. They need to attend camps that fit their skill level and attempt to learn and get better without the thought of being hired. If you are doing the things right, getting the calls right and being effective on the floor and being a good person off the floor, my staff and I will find you and will do everything to help you succeed.
